NEWS RELEASE

RON WHITE PERFORMS TO HUGE CROWD AT THE VICKSBURG CONVENTION CENTER!

Vicksburg, MS. The cigar-wielding, Scotch-swigging Texas comedian Ron “Tater Salad” White’s Saturday night show at the Vicksburg Convention Center was record breaking. “We want to thank everyone who came out to the show. It’s crowds like this that interest promoters to bring shows of this magnitude to our community. We look forward to bringing more entertainment to Vicksburg in the coming months,” said Troy Thorn, Executive Director of the Vicksburg Convention Center and Auditorium.

Slated for 7:00 p.m. at the Convention Center, White’s “Moral Compass Tour” stopped in Vicksburg before making its way to Gainesville, Fla.

Besides his lucrative career as a Grammy-nominated comedian, White is a New York Times best-selling author for his book “I Had the Right to Remain Silent But I Didn’t Have the Ability,” and has made numerous cameos on TV shows and films, including “Sex and the City 2” and “Horrible Bosses.” He also has starred in three of the top-rated one-hour TV specials in Comedy Central history, such as “You Can’t Fix Stupid” in 2006, and has sold millions of both DVDs and CDs.

White is also known for touring with fellow comedians and friends Jeff Foxworthy, Larry the Cable Guy and Bill Engvall in the wildly successful Blue Collar Comedy Tour, which earned him another Grammy nod for the tour CD “Blue Collar Comedy Tour – One for The Road.”

If you’re looking to catch White perform in the Southeast before his tour takes him to the West Coast in mid-February, visit tatersalad.com for more information.
